CONSTRUCTION HISTORY (DESCRIPTION, NAMES, DATES, ETC., RELATING TO MAJOR ALTERATIONS TO ORIGINAL STRUCTURE): Sanborn maps indicate that this house originally had a full-width porch which was altered to this off-center porch between 1932 and 1949; the porch supports and balustrade appear newer than that.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND (DISCUSS IMPORTANT PERSONS AND EVENTS ASSOCIATED WITH THIS STRUCTURE): The 3 March 1892 edition of the Littleton Independent reported that "Col. Spotswood has purchased from Uncle Fred Comstock an elegant 9-room house on Curtis street. The Colonel will move his family there shortly." Fred Comstock was an early day blacksmith in Littleton. Col. Robert Spotswood was a well known stage driver in Colorado's early days. His title was honorary. He was born in Virginia in 1838 and his family moved to Missouri when he was eight. He attended the University of Missouri at Columbia. He traveled West as a wagonmaster making trips between Kansas and Denver and Salt Lake City. He joined the Overland Stage Co. as a messenger and was later appointed superintendent of the Julesburg division of the stage. At one time, he was in charge of the stage lines between Virginia Dale and Salt Lake City. He then had a line from Morrison to Leadville via Turkey Creek and Kenosha Pass. In 1879, he purchased 520 acres of land near Bear Creek which later became part of Fort Logan. He developed a stock farm in the area of today's Columbine Country Club and was involved in the formation of Wynetka. He served on the town board and was a member of the board of the Rough and Ready Mill. He built a business block at the southeast corner of Curtice and Main. Spotswood died in his Littleton home on 17 April 1910 and was buried in Littleton Cemetery.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE: This house is associated with famous stage operator, Col. Robert Spotswood, who was involved in several stage lines before the arrival of railroads in Colorado. The house, although somewhat altered, is representative of late nineteenth century architecture with Queen Anne features in Littleton, as reflected in the gabled roof with overhanging eaves, walls clad with narrow lap siding and shingled gable faces, and the windows with architrave surrounds.
